

Jill Hamburgo is a New York casting professional. She's discovered big names on popular TV shows for MTV, VH1 and AMC, and has done casting for films alongside Tyler Perry, John Singleton and Tina Gordon Chism. As a first generation Dominican-American, Jill strives to provide inclusion of women and minorities in all her projects. She received her degree in Radio & TV Production from SUNY New Paltz where she produced her first TV & Radio show. Jill got her start in film interning for W.S.A Casting Company which led her to work on features like the remake of Sparkle with Whitney Houston. In both scripted and reality content, Jill continues to diversify her projects and experience by giving a voice to those who have yet to be heard.
